CITIZENS GUIDE TO THE PETITION FOR REVIEW PROCESS

WHAT IS A PETITION FOR REVIEW?

Starting on July 1, 2023, a "petition for review" is the new procedure for appealing any final judgment of a "lower judicatory" to a superior court or state court. OCGA §§ 5-3-1 to 5-3-21.

- Judicatory means any court, official, board, tribunal, commission, municipal or county authority, council, or similar body exercising judicial or quasi-judicial powers. OCGA § 5-3-3 (5).
- Lower judicatory means any "judicatory" inferior in authority to the superior and state courts and subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the superior or state courts as provided by law and the Georgia Constitution. OCGA § 5-3-3 (6).

WHO ARE THE PARTIES?

- Petitioner: A "petitioner" is a person who files a petition for review in superior or state court.
- Respondent: The "respondent" is a person who is adverse to the petitioner and was a party to the dispute subject to the final judgment of the lower judicatory. OCGA § 5-3-3 (11).
- Not a party: A judge, official, or member of the lower judicatory who made the final judgment under review is not a party just because they made the final judgment appealed. A "respondent" must have been adverse to the petitioner and a party in the case in the lower judicatory. OCGA § 5-3-3 (11).

WHAT DOES A PETITION FOR REVIEW LOOK LIKE?

A Model Petition for Review is attached that you can fill in, revise if needed, and adapt to the unique circumstances of your case.

See the next page for Filing and Service Deadlines

WHEN ARE THE FILING DEADLINES?

- Unless an exception applies, a petitioner must file a petition for review with the clerk of the reviewing court within 30 days after:
 - If the lower judicatory has a clerk: The date the final judgment in the lower judicatory is filed or recorded, whatever comes first; or
 - If the lower judicatory does not have a clerk: The date the final judgment in the lower judicatory is signed and notice of the final judgment has been provided to all parties. OCGA § 5-3-7 (b).
- Shorter timeline for landlord/tenant dispossessory proceedings: A copy of the petition for review filed in the reviewing superior or state court must be filed in the trial court that rendered the decision appealed (e.g., the magistrate court) within seven days after the date the appealed judgment was entered in the trial court. OCGA § 44-7-56 (b) (1).
- A demand for a jury trial in a petition for review must be filed in the reviewing court within 30 days after filing a petition for review. OCGA § 5-3-5 (c).
- The reviewing court is only allowed to grant one filing deadline extension not to exceed 30 days for the filing of a petition for review. OCGA § 5-3-11 (b).
- However, the reviewing court is allowed to grant additional filing deadline extensions for other documents if necessary to permit a just and expeditious review. OCGA § 5-3-11 (b).
